DAY 4: August 30th: SHORT INCA TRAIL TO MACCHU PICCHU:

Bring luggage to lobby & pack an overnight bag for the trip (approx 20 pounds, like a backpack) to Machu Picchu & a small back pack. Cannot bring large luggage on train.

5:45am Pick up from your hotel and transfer to the Train station, where you will board the VISTADOME TRAIN. Train stops at Km 104 and this is where the hikers will exit the train. This hike is optional, but if you signed up for this trip late we were not able to sign you up.

THE HIKE: We cross a hanging bridge and we continue to Chachabamba site, these ruins discovered in 1940, are located on the old Inca road that ran along the southern bank of the Urubamba river. The style of buildings and stonework suggest that this was an important religious site, as well as having the secondary function as a gate house guarding this entrance to Machu Picchu. From Chachabamba the Inca Trail climbs the hillside, entering some woods and crossing a small stream. After about 2 hours after leaving Chachabamba, the path at last descends into a nice Valley where it becomes a canyon and the cloud forest begins to appear; we will reach a beautiful waterfall, and soon after leave the forest to arrive at the foot of the superb ruins of Wiñay Wayna. Time for the lunch, after it we will have time to rest and enjoy exploring the site with its houses, terraces, towers and local museum.

In the afternoon we will finally reach the door of the sun (INTIPUNKU) from where the trail winds downhill. The classic view into the lost citadel will be a unique experience; we descend toward the town of Aguas Calientes to spend the night.

Non-hikers – Arrive into Aguas Caliente 9:50am and have a free day. Our tour includes one day in Machu Picchu, which we have set up for the next day. If you wish to go in today you will need to purchase your own ticket at a cost of approx. $52.00

Overnight in Aguas Calientes: Hotel on your own

Meals: Box lunch

DAY 5: August 31st: MACCHU PICCHU:

After an early breakfast, your local Machu Picchu guide will pick you up from the lobby of your hotel. We take the bus up to the Sanctuary of Machu Picchu and have a full day guided tour of the site. You will visit the most important places of this magic place. Lunch at Sanctuary lodge (the unique restaurant located close to Machupicch citadel), after Lunch, you have the option of visiting again this citadel.

After this awesome visit, we will return to Aguas Calientes town.
